Tornados plague Coast; Bay housing project hit

By EDGAR PEREZ
Residents of the Bay St. Louis Housing Authority Project near Old Spanish Trail were jolted from their sleep about 3 a.m. Saturday when a tornado slammed through the roofs of two structures in the subdivision.

Sustaining roof damage in the incident were the 500-502 Barth St. apartments and the housing authority administration building.

The twister punched completely through roof and ceiling of the administration building, scattering debris and insulation inside and admitting torrential rains which were falling at the time.

The Barth Street residences, occupied by Mrs. Bertha Bardin in 500 and Mrs. Louise Shaw and her mother, Mrs. Lillian Asher, in the adjoining 502.

"It's hard to believe a brick building could shake like that without falling apart," Mrs. Shaw said.

"A tremendous racket woke me up and all the windows were rattling," Mrs. Shaw reported.

Curtains were standing straight out from windows even though they were closed, Mrs. Shaw said.

"I woke my mother up and we went into the bathroom which I think was the safest place," the shaken resident stated later Saturday.

"That was the worst noise I have ever heard, I thought the whole building was going," she continued.

Mrs. Asher reported she could hear debris flying through the air, apparently pieces roofing from the neighboring buildings.

"I was never so scared in my life," Mrs. Asher said, adding, "I lit my Sacred Heart candle."

Mrs. Shaw said the noise abated as quickly as it came up, and when she peeked out her front door she saw roofing materials scattered in the yard across the street.

"The phone and electricity were working so I called the police. They came right away and I'm so grateful to them," she continued.

"I was crying and trembling when the officer arrived, but he managed to calm me down after talking for a few minutes in the patrol car," Mrs. Shaw added.

"You feel so alone and so helpless and afraid when something like this happens," the storm victim related.

Officers Albert Biehl and Wilbert Dorsey answered the original call, but reported they were unable to see damages in the darkness and heavy rain.

It wasn't until after daylight that the neighborhood realized the two buildings had been severely damaged.

The administration building was unoccupied when the storm hit, according to Mrs. Catherine Wimbley, project manager.

Mrs. Shaw said a piece of roofing plywood struck her car, smashing into the windshield and damaging the body.

She discovered later the tornadic winds apparently sucked an inspection sticker off the windshield which although shattered, remained in place.

"The inside of the car was littered with wet grass and the ashtray was pulled open by the wind," she added.

"I took the car to my mechanic this morning and he noticed the inspection sticker was gone," she explained.

Wrecks injure four, total three vehicles

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
In the midst of tornados and heavy rains Friday, US-90 was the scene of two accidents involving a total of five vehicles and 13 people.

Four people were injured and three vehicles were totally destroyed.

A two-car accident at the corner of US-90 and DeMontluzin Street in Bay St. Louis at 10:35 a.m. injured Elizabeth Grace, 64, and Willie Grace, 24, both of 617 Keller St., Bay St. Louis.

Patrolman Harris Boudreaux of the Bay St. Louis Police Department said, "Both were taken by Mobile Medic to Hancock General Hospital, treated for minor injuries and released."

"A car driven by Tran Xuyen of 11 Betsy Ave. in Pass Christian was traveling west on US-90 and a station wagon driven by Elizabeth Grace was attempting to cross the highway heading north on DeMontluzin when the cars hit," Boudreaux reports.

"Willie Grace was thrown from the Four arrested in beer check

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Four arrests were made Friday for alleged sales of beer to minors, according to Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson.

"We checked seven establishments on which we have been receiving complaints from parents about beer being sold to minors," Peterson said Saturday.

The sheriff said three junior auxiliary deputies were used in checking the establishments, and out of seven places checked, only three asked for identification card.

Peterson added, "The first check we made, we primarily concentrated on food outlets and made arrests at seven out of ten places checked. This time we concentrated on bar operations."

Peterson reports the following have been charged with selling alcoholic beverages to minors:

—Bobby G. Mayberry, 39, Mayberry's Lounge, Hwy. 53, North Hancock County.

—Janice Saucier, 42, Henley's Lounge and Bar, Hwy. 603, White Cypress.

—Hazel Keel, 62, Jackie's Lounge, Hwy. 603, near Jourdan River bridge.

—Debra Kolczycki, 21, 1910 Fruit Gum Company, US-90, Waveland.

No violations were found at three other establishments checked Friday night, they were: Harold and Lillians Bar, Clermont Harbor; Top Rail, Caesar-Necaise Road, North Hancock County; and Sassy Cat Lounge, Hwy. 43, Catahoula Community.

In addition to Peterson, Investigators Alvin Ladner, Delbert Seay, and Deputies Mark Ohman and Nathan Hoda were involved in the beer sales to minors checks.

"This is the second time we have checked on beer sales to minors, and we will be checking again. The number of complaints received by my office have dropped off somewhat since the first check," Peterson stated.

Suspect arrested

Woman flees shotgun blast

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

A joint investigation by the Bay St. Louis Police Department and the Hancock County Sheriff's Department led to the arrest of a 23-year-old New Orleans man Saturday afternoon.

Ken D. Rawley of 2333 Magazine St. was charged with aggravated assault, attempted armed robbery and burglary and jailed 2 p.m. Saturday under $30,000 bond.

The New Orleans man is charged with firing a gun at a Bay St. Louis woman attempting to make a night bank deposit early Saturday morning and with the robbery of a Shoreline Park home.

Lelia Malley, manager of the Majie Market convenience store on Dunbar Avenue near US-90, said Saturday morning, "When I drove around the bank to the night deposit window, I noticed a man sitting in a tan pickup truck with a rust-colored door."

"I drove up to the night deposit box at

Otis schedules voting machine demonstrations

Henry L. Otis, Hancock County Circuit Clerk, said that he will be at the following locations at the times indicated to demonstrate the new Votomatic punch-card voting system which will be used in Hancock County in the June primary elections:

—Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at Gulfview School, Lakeshore.

—Tuesday, May 27 and Wednesday, May 28 at 12:30 p.m. at the Senior Citizens Center in Bay St. Louis.

—Thursday, May 29 at 7:30 p.m. at Charles B. Murphy Elementary School, Pearllington.

These meetings are open to the public.

Organization which would like to see a demonstration of this system prior to the June 3 primary election, should contact Otis at 467-5205.

Otis will also conduct a school of instruction for election managers and peace and returning officers at the courtroom of the courthouse in Bay St. Louis Wednesday, May 28 7:30 p.m.

All persons who have served as managers in recent elections are urged to attend, Otis said.

Some of the procedure in using the Votomatic equipment is different from the old paper ballot system, and the manager should familiarize themselves with these differences, the election official urged.

AUTO PELLETED—Bay St. Louis Majie Market manager Lelia Malley reports a shotgun was fired into the rear of her compact car early Saturday morning as she attempted to make a night deposit at Gulf National Bank on US-90 in Bay St. Louis. Malley said the damage was inflicted by an unknown gunman who fired at the vehicle as the store manager fled from an apparent attempted robbery about 12:05 a.m. Saturday. Columbia engine being mounted on NSTL test stand

NSTL to fire shuttle engines for 8 minutes

Space Shuttle project managers at NASA's Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville the recently announced second round of acceptance tests to be performed on the Shuttle Orbiter Columbia's main engine will consist of one 520-second static firing for each engine.

Two test stands at the National Space Technology Laboratories in Hancock County will be used for the tests.

Engine 2007 has already been mounted in test stand A-2 and is scheduled for static firing in late May.

Engine 2006, to be mounted on stand A-1, will be tested in mid-June and 2005, on stand A-2, in late June.

The acceptance tests are planned because modifications have been made to each of the engines since acceptance tests were conducted. The engines tested on stand A-2 will be throttled during the 250 second firing.

Testing is conducted by Rockwell International's Rocketdyne Division of Canoga Park, Calif., for the Marshall Center, which is responsible for developing and testing the Space shuttle main engines.

Clermont boat renter sees no trash problem

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
A Clermont Harbor beach businessman has taken issue with objections to his operation voiced recently at a Hancock County Board of Supervisors meeting.

Mary Caillier, representing the Clermont Harbor Civic Association, told the supervisors members of the association are upset with a sailboat rental business run by Charles Black.

Black recently began renting catamarans on the beach about a mile west of Buccaneer State Park.

Mary Caillier stated at the supervisor's meeting, "He's causing an awful dumping problem and causing a big mess."

Black says, "We've got cans for trash and we keep the trash picked up on that part of the beach. We keep the cans out on Saturday and Sunday, and pick them up during the week because no one's there."

At the invitation of Black, a Sea Coast Echo inspection of the beach surrounding the Black's sailboat rental area found very little trash in the area.

Regarding Caillier's statement "Buccaneer Park ran him out," Black replies, "Greg Smith (ranger in charge of the park) wanted us down there, but I went to the Waveland Board of Aldermen and they told me the beach in front of the park was zoned residential."

"The entire beach in the Waveland city limits is zoned noncommercial," Black adds.

However, Greg Smith explains, "We couldn't give Black approval to put his sailboats on the beach because we do not own the beach. The beach is county land."

"I gave him no word whatsoever... I said I don't care what he does with his sailboats," Smith adds.

In response to District Five Supervisor James Triviera's inquiry about Black possessing proper licenses, the beach merchant says, "We've got a state license and a privilege license."

"I have five boats down on the beach and I have three more boats available," Black states.

"I have about $1,800 tied up in each boat," Black reports.

"Now, I will be open all week because a college boy will be there to rent the boats all summer," Black says.

"School children will get one-half the regular rental rate and I will donate the use of the sailboats to Girl and Boy Scouts, and several other children's groups," Black adds.

Bits 'n pieces

The several hundred folks who attended the Hancock County football jamboree Wednesday night got to see some real good football.

Indications are that all three of the Hancock County schools should field good teams next fall.

We know the players cannot wait until the first season game in September.

We wish the Hawks, Tigers and Rock-A-Chaws luck this coming season.

We received an interesting telephone call from Diamondhead resident Col. Chris Arnos on Thursday evening.

Col. Arnos wanted us to inform everyone about an incident which happened at his home on Monday evening.

Around 2 p.m. his wife and a friend were chatting and all of a sudden his wife passed out, and her heart stopped.

A telephone call was made to Diamondhead's Rescue Unit and in a minute or so they were at his residence.

Col. Arnos said his military experiences before retiring placed him in many emergency situations and he has seen many teams perform in various situations.

All Col. Arnos can now do is boost about the efficiency of Diamondhead's Rescue Squad.

The thing which impressed the Diamondhead resident is how everyone knew exactly what to do.

Diamondhead Security, Hancock County Sheriff's Department, Mobile Medic, Hancock General Hospital Emergency Room staff, and Dr. Chevis all worked like a team according to Col. Arnos. The thing which really impressed him was how cool and efficiently everyone worked.

Mrs. Arnos has been transferred to Garden Park Hospital in Gulfport for special tests, according to her husband, but if it had not been for fast action by local emergency technicians, she probably would not have survived.

Col. Arnos said he was sure glad he wasn't in a large city where he would have had to wait and wait for help to arrive.

We feel everyone should be commended for their fine job and in addition to Col. Arnos' thanks extend ours for a job well done.

We had the pleasure of having an old friend visiting for a couple days this past week.

Larry Nash, former publisher of the Echo, stopped in for a short visit on his way from Texas to Tennessee to visit some of his family.

It was good to see our old friend Larry and talk about some of the old good times enjoyed during his stay in Hancock County.

We ran across Jake Jacob, who asked him if he still had trouble keeping his keys.

Nash has left the mountain country in Tennessee and is now located in Freeport on the Texas Coast. He said the area where he is now working really reminds him of the Bay-Waveland area as it is flat and he is on the Gulf.

Everywhere we stopped, Nash had an opportunity to chat with old friends. It doesn't seem like it has been over three years since he was here.

One thing Larry mentioned was the fact that there have been numerous changes in Bay St. Louis, Waveland and the County.

He saw a lot of growth which we fail to recognize at times since we are here while it is all going on and do not really pay as much attention like someone who has been away for some time.

We sure have been having our share of tornados in the County in recent months. It has been a long time since we have seen it so dark during the day like on Friday morning.

This was the second tornado warning in two days for us, with at least two touchdowns reported and other twisters sighted.

We had one to touch down in the vicinity of Stennis Air Port on Tuesday evening.

Friday morning we had one spotted in Pearlinton and another in the center of Bay St. Louis.

Our Civil Defense Director, Robert Boudin said we were lucky with the schools being so close.

Well, the Miss USA contest for 1980 is now history.

The person we kind of selected placed second this year, we did not do as well as last year.

We have to say this, Miss South Carolina was for sure the winner, being tops in all of the areas.

We extend our congratulations to the so many folks who worked so hard to bring such a wonderful event to the Gulf Coast for the second year in a row.

Randy Ponder had a hard time getting up for work Friday morning after covering the big event Thursday night.

We saw him on TV flashing away with his camera to get us some great shots. Our staff has done a fine job on photo coverage for the event this year.

questions and answers

Q: In January, I'm going to work part time doing inventory for a local store. I'm a high school student and have never had a job before. The store manager told me I need a social security card. How do I get one?

A: You can apply for a social security card at any social security office. You'll need evidence of age, identity, and U.S. citizenship or lawful admission status. The documents must be originals, not photocopies. It usually takes about 8 weeks to get your card after your application has been filed.

FIRST RUNNERUP—Miss Arizona, Jleanne Marie Ford of Gilbert, first runnerup in the Miss USA Pageant Thursday night in Hilo, views an earlier edition of the Sea Coast Echo which predicted she would be among the principal contenders for the crown. Echo General Manager Randy Ponder of Bay St. Louis happily reports the prediction, to Miss Ford.

MISSISSIPPI CONSUMER REPORT

Office of Bill Allain, Attorney General

Attorney General Bill Allain is alerting recipients of mail solicitation from a Texas marketing firm about coupons that appear to be $200 checks.

"These coupons are valid only toward the purchase of luggage or a sewing machine from the company and are non-negotiable. Our Consumer Protection Division has been inundated with calls from parents concerning students who have innocently tried to cash the coupons," Allain said.

"We have contacted the Attorney General's Office in Texas and the Better Business Bureau in Dallas and have found schemes such as this to be the subject of a number of complaints alleging misrepresentation," Allain said.

The coupons are being sent to high school graduates inferring they are graduation gifts.

As general information, Allain suggests that anyone considering these offers should do comparison shopping in their own area for similar merchandise. Consumers purchasing these items through this company should have a clear understanding of the purchase terms, cost, and terms of guarantee or warranty.

For additional information contact the Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's Office in Jackson.

SPECIAL REPORT

Senior Citizens

During a recent visit in South Mississippi, I had an opportunity to speak with two groups of senior citizens. My first stop was at a nutrition site in Perry County at Runnelstown. The other group consisted of three organizations of retired persons who were meeting together in Hattiesburg.

Since coming to Congress in 1973, I have been deeply concerned with the welfare of older citizens. I was particularly pleased when, as a member of the House of Representatives, I was appointed to serve on the Select Committee on Aging.

As a result of the experience gained by working on that committee, I developed a new sense of awareness and sensitivity for the special needs and problems of many older Americans.

When I was a young boy, the family unit provided the support and care for older members of the family. Institutions whose mission it was to care for older people were rare. Transportation, housing and nutrition needs were met with family and neighborhood resources.

In this modern, present-day world, family members are often scattered. Many are in different states, making it difficult for older family members to depend on the family unit for help in fulfilling basic human needs.

This transition in life styles has created a void that our government, along with charitable, church and volunteer organizations, are trying to fill.

I support the efforts being made to provide better opportunities for older citizens.

Even though such initiatives as the Older Americans Act. Under this legislation, outlets for volunteer service have been identified, employment possibilities increased and fellowship opportunities developed.

In addition, a new sense of responsibility for avoiding unnecessary institutionalization and for helping provide for essential human needs such as nutrition, housing, transportation and health care has arisen.

Although many unmet needs continue to exist, progress is being made in the overall effort to help assure older citizens of opportunities for a better quality of life.

At the nutrition site I visited at Runnelstown, for instance, a side benefit, which seemed almost as important as the food itself, fellowship, served to brighten what might have been an otherwise dull day.

We are in the midst of a budget battle in Washington. Although I'm happy to see a strong effort being made to balance the budget and reduce unnecessary spending, many essential programs and services are threatened.

I sincerely hope we can avoid reducing programs and services for senior citizens.

We all share the problems created by inflation. Those who are old and who must try to get by on a small check or a limited amount of savings are especially hard hit by this high rate of inflation we have now.

Balancing the budget here in Washington will make it easier to balance our bank books back home.

Health Tip

from the Mississippi Department of Health

The Coastal Plains Public Health District IX should concentrate control efforts this summer on the pesky mosquito, not mosquito-borne disease, according to officials of the Center for Disease Control in Atlanta.

The CDC staff met in Jackson recently with public health sanitarians, discussing latest mosquito surveillance and control methods.

District sanitarian Maurice Herrington represented sanitarians of Pearl River, Stone, George, Jackson, Harrison, and Hancock Counties at the meeting at the State Board of Health-Underwood Building Auditorium.

"You should concentrate on controlling the Aedes aegypti, not dengue fever," the CDC officer said. "Because this mosquito breeds and feeds in and around human habitations, it is a serious pest. It should be controlled because it's a pest, not just because it could be a disease-carrier."

The Aedes aegypti is a common domestic mosquito which breeds in such artificial containers as flower vases, tin cans, jars, discarded automobile tires, cisterns, rain barrels, sagging roof gutters, and tree holes. It can carry yellow fever or dengue fever, both viral diseases.

CDC officials who met with the Mississippi sanitarians reminded the State Board of Health staff members that the mosquitoes must be infected with the virus to transmit either disease to man.

Even though the presence of the dengue virus has been confirmed in Mexico, the incidence of dengue in the Caribbean was much less in 1979 than in the two previous years.

CDC officials said in January that the disease could spread this summer through the mosquito population and with the human traffic flow from Mexico to Texas and the Southeastern States.

State Health Officer Dr. Alton B. Cobb alerted Mississippi officials and called on them to take action that would lessen the threat of a dengue fever outbreak in the state. He urged leaders at all levels to intensify mosquito control efforts.

"The key to preventing mosquito-borne disease at any time is to eliminate breeding areas," Dr. Cobb commented. "Spray equipment is sometimes effective in helping reduce the mosquito population, but the most cost-effective effort is to stop mosquito growth at the point of origin."

Mosquito control information is available by contacting Herrington at the Jackson County Health Department in Pascagoula or from the Hancock County Health Department.

The Bottom Line

Candid Answers To Your Questions About Advertising and Business Topics.

By S. GALE DENLEY
Associate Professor of Journalism
University of Mississippi

I keep seeing the same little ads, over and over—some for years in newspapers! Don't these people ever give up? What's Your Idea?

Dear WYI: From your question I take it that you assume the little ads don't work.

But the very fact that they keep running bears testimony that they produce some prospects.

Otherwise, you could be sure, the ads would be changed or cancelled.

Like the big space buyers these advertisers have found that consistent promotion is as important as display. Not having the resources or volume of business to support big space frequently they opt for a smaller space in every issue.

Another angle on your question is the fact that you noticed the ads. Not only that, you also recognized the ones that have been running for some time.

So if you were a prospect for the advertised goods, a sale could have resulted.

Still another aspect of the small space ad run regularly is that future prospects will be alerted, many times subconsciously, to the message.

All of us have experienced the realization when a need becomes manifest, of having seen an ad or notice relating to the newly recognized need.

Sometimes we are fortunate enough to find the almost remembered notice, and the odds of doing so are much better if the ad is run frequently.

So the small space advertisers may be planting seeds of an indefinite gestation—awaiting a realization of need by a previous reader before it begins to sprout.

No, these small advertisers aren't wasting their money. They are letting you know in every issue that they are in business. And they are also alerting new readers to their existence.

All too often a so-called businessman will promote his new operation for a month or two, and then assume everyone knows about him and won't forget. Not only is such thinking the height of conceit and egotism—it is also an absurdly poor and often fatal business attitude.

Camille Scott of 527 Barth, across the street from where the tornado struck, slept through the entire incident.

"If the telephone or the alarm clock rings, I'll wake up—otherwise, forget it," Ms. Scott noted.

But Vincenette Swiber of 528 Barth was also terrified by the noise of the early morning winds.

"I got up and looked out the window and could see pieces of Mrs. Shaw's roof flying off—I was scared to death," Mrs. Marie Murray of 519 Louis Piernas Drive, just across the street, said she didn't know what had happened at the time.

"That terrible noise woke me up and I jumped out of bed and looked outside but I couldn't see anything," she added.

Ms. Bardin, who also lives in the damaged residence, was reportedly picked up by her son early Saturday after the storm struck and was unavailable for comment.

Carpenter Ernest Wimbley of Bay St. Louis, Poochie Lusich of the Waveland Housing Authority and Mike Dahmer of Waveland, Bay Housing Authority employee, Saturday began repairing the damaged residence.

Mrs. Shaw said she and her mother would stay with Mrs. Shaw's daughter Elaine Anderson of Bay St. Louis until repairs could be completed on their home.

The weather system which spawned the Bay St. Louis tornado was apparently responsible for two deaths earlier in Louisiana, and other tornadoes along the Mississippi Gulf Coast Saturday morning.

Harrison County Civil Defense Director Wade Guice reported a Gulfport apartment building which lost its roof to a tornado 33 days ago was struck again Saturday.

Tornado touchdowns were reported in Pearllington Friday morning and another was spotted in Bay St. Louis that morning.

Several schools were closed early Friday after this area went under a tornado warning.

That warning was lifted by the National Weather Service in Mobile at 9 a.m. Friday.

But tornado warnings were issued again after midnight Saturday morning for Hancock County.

Another tornado touched down at Stennis International Airport Thursday, but no damages were reported to planes or buildings.

Airport operator Andy Ewing told the Hancock County port and harbor Commission Thursday night the tornado had come down at the airfield Thursday afternoon.

Several aircraft were damaged April 13 by an early Sunday morning tornado at the airport, including Ewing's crop duster.

"We looked out the window Thursday afternoon and saw a 60-foot pine tree fall from the clouds," Ewing told the commissioners Thursday night.

"The tornado moved in the direction of the Vo-Tech Center, but did not damage those buildings," Ewing told the board.

Dispatcher Wanda Stenklyft of the Mississippi Forestry Commission's Kiln Fire Tower reported some 6.37 inches of rain fell at the tower from 1 p.m. Thursday until 1 p.m. Saturday.

Some 2.75 inches were recorded from 1 p.m. Thursday through 1 p.m. Friday, and 3.82 inch from 1 p.m. Friday until 1 p.m. Saturday, Ms. Stenklyft reported.

Gulf National Bank on the highway about 12:05 a.m. Saturday to make a routine deposit for my store," she continued.

"I looked in my rear-view mirror and saw that man get out of his truck and run up behind my car with a gun."

Ms. Malley said she sped away in her automobile and the gunman fired, hitting the trunk and rear window of the car.

The back of Ms. Malley's compact car is riddled with holes which appear to have been made by No. Six shotgun pellets.

"I went home and immediately called the police," Ms. Malley added.

Later Saturday morning, at 1:48 a.m. Walter Seawright of Lake Street in Shoreline Park reported a burglary at his residence.

Sheriff Ronald A. Peterson said Saturday afternoon, Seawright returned to his home early this morning and found some $2,200 in tools and household electronic equipment missing.

"A 19-inch color television, a craftsman tool box with tools, radio, an AM-FM stereo, an air compressor and various other tools were stolen from Seawright," Peterson reported.

"This morning we began investigating the burglary and during the course of the investigation it was determined the person who was involved in the burglary was the same man involved in the shooting incident," the sheriff said.

"We felt the shooting was tied in with the robbery due to the similar vehicle descriptions we received," Peterson added.

"We feel there were three other subjects involved in the burglary, but we feel there were no other subjects involved in the shooting incident," Peterson stated.

"We are still trying to recover the items stolen from Seawright's home and we feel we will recover these items soon," Peterson reported.

"The weapon used in the Gulf National Bank shooting has not been recovered, but we feel it's a 12-gauge shotgun because we found several shells with No. 6 birdshot in them," the sheriff said.

"We are also investigating to see if Rawley is using his correct name because we think he might be using an alias," Peterson stated.

Peterson said both cases are still under investigation by himself, Sheriff's Investigator Alvin Ladner and Bay Police Investigator Jim Mallini.

station wagon in the accident," the patrolman added.

Xuyen's sons Thain Travan and Wang Ho were passengers in the automobile.

Taffany Daily and Carol Dinkler, also of 517 Keller St., were riding in the Grace station wagon at the time of the accident.

Bay St. Louis Police Chief Douglas Williams said no citations were issued in the mishap.

The extent of damages to the vehicles was undetermined.

In addition to Boudreaux and Mobile Medic personnel, Patrolman Alvin Ladner and Investigator Jim Mallini also responded to the accident.

Later the same day, at 5:45 p.m., three-vehicle pile-up at the corner of McLaurin Street and US-90 in Waveland injured two people.

A pickup truck and two cars involved in the accident were listed as total losses by Waveland police.

Patrolman John Wilkerson of the Waveland Police Department reported, "Alan Piazza, 23, of 413 Broad St. in Waveland had cuts and bruises to the face and arms, and Joanne Cuevas, 36, of 603 Highland Drive in Bay St. Louis was complaining of neck pains."

"Ms. Cuevas was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way," Wilkerson added.

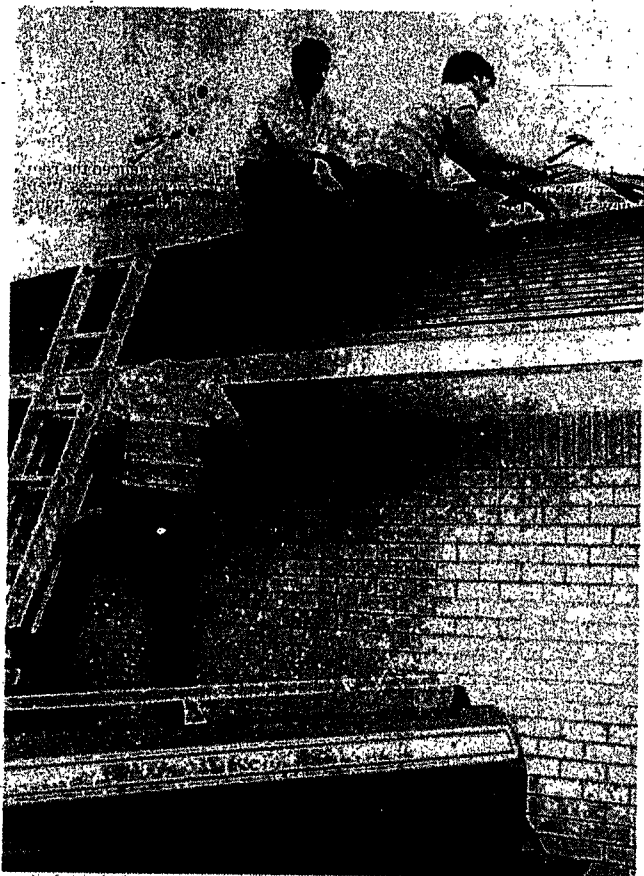

"Ms. Cuevas, driving the pickup truck, was crossing US-90 heading south on McLaurin Street along with her son. Piazza was driving the car which hit the side of the Cuevas vehicle," Wilkerson said.

"Piazza's wife Janell and his son were also in his vehicle, but were not injured," Wilkerson added.

"Then, Michael Hemphill, 28, of 117 Waveland Ave. ran his car into the back of the Piazza vehicle, but apparently he was not injured," the Waveland patrolman said.

"All of the vehicles are a total loss," Wilkerson added.

Also responding to the Waveland accident was Patrolman Veronica Hallabrough and Investigator Robert (Poochie) Tartavouille of the Waveland Police Department and Hancock County Sheriff's Deputies Fairley Necaise and Mary Beth Iwanczyk.

REPAIR VOLUNTEERS—Carpenter Ernest Wimbley, left, of Bay St. Louis and Poochie Lusich of the Waveland Housing Authority volunteer their professional skills Saturday to make immediate repairs to roof of a Bay St. Louis Housing Project home damaged by a tornado earlier that day. Bay-Waveland to host workshop Bay-Waveland Garden Club May 8 held its final meeting before summer vacation with 60 members and 6 guests present. After the Pledge of Allegiance, Mrs. H.M. Keefe offered a prayer.

Mrs. John Holmes, president, said the Spanish Trail District Spring Workshop will be at Bay-Waveland Yacht Club, Wednesday hosted by Bay-Waveland Garden Club.

Registration will be at 9 a.m. Mrs. Paul Franke Jr., Spanish Trail District Director, will preside.

Mrs. Warren I. Hammett, state president of Garden Clubs of Mississippi, will direct the workshop.

Several motions were made and passed:

To donate money in memory of two deceased members to National Home Endowment Fund, St. Louis, Missouri. To donate to the Mississippi Garden Club Old Governor's Mansion Landscape Fund, Jackson, Miss.

To send two students to the Horticulture Summer Seminar, Mississippi State University, June 15-18: Courtney Egan of Pearlman and Teresa Holland of Bay St. Louis.

Miss Regina Blaise reported Garden of the Month in Bay St. Louis was awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Miller 115 Hickory Lane.

Mrs. Mildred Banscher reported Mr. and Mrs. Horatio Weston, 111 Farrar, were awarded Garden of the Month in Waveland.

Mrs. Harotio Weston displayed a beautiful wooden sign constructed and donated to Bay Waveland Garden Club by Mr. George N. Janvier, to be used at Waveland Memorial Gardens, Waveland Library.

Mrs. John Newkirk

distributed copies of a historical report and read other historical facts concerning the beginning of the garden club and its present building, a former school house built in 1910.

In a traditional flower ceremony, conducted by Mrs. Clarence Evans, the following ladies were installed: Mrs. John Holmes, president; Mrs.

Jan Brämeyer, first vice president; Mrs. James A. Evans Jr., second vice president; Mrs. W.W. Goodell, third vice president; Mrs. John Breeden, recording secretary; Mrs. Edward Brennan, corresponding secretary; Mrs. O. Duke, treasurer; Mrs. John Newkirk, historian; Mrs. Randolph Bourgeois, parliamentarian.

Mrs. J. R. Autenreith, chairman of hostesses, was assisted by Mrs. John Isom, Mrs. Maurice Karner, Mrs. Augustus Elmer, Mrs. H.M. Keefe, Mrs. Kenneth B. Peery, Mrs. Margaret R. Lamb, Mrs. Charles Lampa, Mrs. A.C. Mitchell, Mrs. Stanleigh Morrison, Mrs. Helene C. Price. (Submitted by Mrs. J.A. Evans, club publicity chairman).

BAY-WAVELAND GARDEN CLUB LEADERS—Officers of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club for 1988-1989 installed in recent ceremonies at the club's Garden Center on Leonard Avenue in Bay St. Louis include, seated from left, Joan Brieden, recording secretary, second term; Alice Brämeyer, first vice president, third term; Alice Holmes, president, third term; Mary Evans, second vice president; Bobbie Goodell, third vice president; and standing from left, Theresa Bourgeois, parliamentarian, second term; Eida Duke, treasurer, second term; Ethel Evans, installing officer; Verna Brennan, corresponding secretary, second term; and Alice Newkirk, historian, second term. HUGO (BO) FAVRE III, 10 month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Favre Jr. of Waveland, won the title of Tiny Beau Sunny South '88 at a Miss and Beau Pageant April 27 at Phillips Business College. He also won Best Stage Personality in his age division 0-2 years. Hugo is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Favre Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. George W. Heffer and great-grandson of Mrs. Vivian Carver, all of Bay St. Louis, and Mrs. Melissa McTaneey of Collins, Miss.

Nuptial Mass unites Wilkerson, Burleson

Elizabeth Ann Wilkerson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Wilkerson of Bay St. Louis, became the bride of Thomas Joseph Burleson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Burleson of Kiln, at a nuptial mass Saturday morning, May 3, in Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church.

Rev. Denis Harlow performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with baskets of white and peach gladioli, daisies and carnations. Mrs. John McKenna, organist, presented a program of nuptial music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace over bridal taffeta featuring a Queen Anne neckline and full Bishop sleeves with deep cuffs. The tiered bouffant Chantilly lace skirt extended to a chapel length train. Her long veil of illusion, bordered with lace, was held by a lace caplet; she wore a pearl-centered heirloom pendant belonging to her mother and carried a nosegay of silk daisies, white and talisman roses, lily of the valley and baby's breath interspersed with ribbon.

Agnes Wilkerson of Bay St. Louis, attended her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Casey Burleson, Kiln, sister of the groom; Vivian Hammer, Bay St. Louis; Patty Ruth, New Orleans; and Melanie Cuevas, Bay St. Louis. Cindy Richard of Opelousas, cousin of the groom, served as flower girl. Charles Richard, Opelousas, La., served his nephew as best man.

Groomsmen were John Wilkerson, brother of the bride; Mark Hinterlang, Houston, Tex., cousin of the bride; William Richard, Opelousas, uncle of the groom; and the groom's brother Roger Dale Burleson of Kiln.

Fred Terluin of New Orleans, cousin of the bride, and Steve LaCoste of Kiln, served as ushers. Ring bearer was E.J. Sathnett of Gulfport.

The bridesmaids wore mint green formal gowns with muted floral print featuring blouson styling and butterfly sleeves; the maid of honor wore a peach gown. They wore hairpieces fashioned of forget-me-nots and baby's breath and carried nosegays of peach silk daisies, talisman roses, forget-me-not and baby's breath with satin ribbon streamers.

Mrs. Wilkerson wore an apricot polyester crepe gown with white accessories and a corsage of silk Sonia roses. Mrs. Burleson chose a pale green chignon gown featuring a crystal pleated caftan style overlay; white accessories and a corsage of talisman roses completed her ensemble.

Arrangements of white gladioli, daisies and peach carnations decorated the tables for the reception at Waveland American Legion Hall.

The bride's table held a five-tier wedding cake decorated with white and peach spungar roses flanked by flower-decorated candelabra and palms.

Piccola Dietrich presided at the guest register and Connie Moran and Edith Bennett served as tea girls.

For their wedding trip to Orlando, Fla., the bride wore a pale blue two-piece dress with white accessories and a corsage of white sweetheart roses.

The couple will reside in Bay St. Louis.

There's an Answer!

They can't even argue.

Q. One day I decided to show my husband how it is to live with someone who never talks, laughs or shows emotions, so I clammed up. And you know, he never noticed!

That was 4 years ago and I just get more miserable. He never shows consideration for others. If it's what he wants then that's the way it must be. I desperately need verbal communication. We can't even have an argument. He says he loves me; we have a smart, sweet 7-year-old daughter, a nice house, two cars and we're healthy. God has blessed my life with these things. Why can't I make them work for me?

A. I agree with you that when communication is missing, life can seem unfulfilling. It seems obvious that the tack you've chosen to improve the situation isn't working. After all, if two people aren't talking, there can be no give and take. Why not try another method? Choose a topic you know will interest your husband. Does he like sports, hunting, reading, stamp collecting? Whatever it is, do a little research into the subject and then, gently, open him up with conversation in his area of interest. I bet he'll respond. Then, slowly, lead him into sharing other areas of your lives together. Soon you'll find yourselves in the habit of talking, and your lives will be fully joined.

DEBTS CAN BE DANGEROUS, even destructive to our lives. This is true whether necessary or otherwise. It has been said that Debt, Dirt and the Devil are related.

Like so many others, I know what it means to have financial obligations. But I have never incurred a debt that I felt comfortable with. I could never be at ease until that obligation was satisfied. We are caught up in a system which makes financial obligations a necessary evil. No Christian should ever make an unnecessary debt.

The Scriptures present the most pleasant and prudent view: "Owe no man anything, but to love one another..." (Rom. 13: 8). Again, in language equally as strong: "Providing for honest things, not only in the sight of the Lord, but also in the sight of men" (II Cor. 8:21).

I realize that credit and debt is very much a part of the American way of life. Government is the chief of sinners, setting the tragic example with staggering obligations which they know shall never be paid.

When a man endeavors to live within his means - makes an effort to kinda pay as he goes, he is viewed as a curiosity, and a caterer to outmoded methods of a by-gone era.

The "wheeler-dealers, go-getters" and loan companies would look with condescending pity on any poor square with ideas and philosophies so out of step with progress.

As necessary as some indebtedness surely is, too many financial obligations are born of greed and covetous desires to have things we could as well, if not better, do without. Sometimes it is simply a matter of "keeping up with the Joneses."

Young families should try to avoid such deceitful and destructive pitfalls.

Prolonged and overwhelming debt often destroys the happiness and harmony of the home. Remember, you cannot buy happiness nor Christian character. These unhappy and unpleasant situations will frazzle nerves, create ill-temper, and generate family feuds. Nagging debts never allow the mind to be at ease. Obviously, there are those who make debts with little, if any, intention to paying them. This reflects innate and overt dishonesty with a lack of desire to cultivate any symbol of Christian character.

The Bible declares that "a good name is rather to be chosen than great riches, and loving favor rather than silver and gold" (Prov. 22:1).

My parents taught me that "a man's word was his bond." My father was not unaware of human foibles, including his own, but his person and his word was respected by those who knew him.

He was a poor man, familiar with hard work and the burden of debt. But he never dodged his obligations. He was sometimes embarrassed, but never without the courage and will to face up to his commitments.

There may be times when a man cannot meet his obligations; but there should never be a time nor situation when he would refuse to face up to his word. I was taught by my parents that if I said I would be at a certain place on Monday at ten o'clock, that didn't mean Tuesday at eleven.

The only thing of real value my father left his nine children was a legacy of honesty and moral integrity. Being honest and a man of your word is both an economic as well as a moral asset.

USM offers Biblical site study in Israel

The University of Southern Mississippi is offering four credit courses this summer which will provide an opportunity for students to participate in excavations at one of the largest and most important Biblical sites in Israel and in a recently discovered cave in Italy.

The Israel site will be Aphek-Antipatris, strategically located on an ancient trade route between Tel Aviv and Jerusalem.

Aphek is one of the earliest towns yet discovered in Palestine.

The site, dating from 3000 B.C., is mentioned in the Bible in Joshua 12:18 and I Samuel 4:1; 29:1 and shows evidence of Egyptian, Canaanite, Philistine, Israelite, Turkish and Roman occupations.

In the rubble of buildings destroyed sometime after the Biblical Canaanite period (after 1250 B.C.), tablets with inscriptions in Akkadian, Egyptian, Hittite, and Sumerian writings have been found.

Some archaeologists believe Aphek was an important crossroads where many languages and cultures met and may have been the site of an early center of learning similar to a modern university.

The pre-historic cave to be studied, is also rich in archaeological evidence. Recent findings indicate that a farming people resorted to hunting for food and changed their tools accordingly.

Large pottery vessels were found ceremoniously placed on prepared stags to be commemorate.

A meeting of St. Clare's annual parish fair committee was held Monday night in parish hall to discuss plans for a fish fry scheduled for Friday, August 1, and the fair Saturday and Sunday, August 2 and 3.

Rev. Msgr. John Scanlon, pastor, opened the meeting with a prayer.

Attending were Charles Johnson, president; Gerald Winchester and Louis Smolensky, co-chairman; Mrs. E.N. Canady, publicity chairman and Mrs. Ivey Cox, secretary.

catch dripping water from the stalactite overhead.

An ancient graveyard almost the size of a football field was found in one room of the cave and one of the fossil remains indicated early attempts at cranial surgery.

The director of the foreign study and research program will be USM Archeologist Dr. Shan Winn who has extensive experience in archaeological studies in the Middle East.

The field work will be conducted from July 13 to Aug. 7. Air fare, room and board, and tuition for six semester hours for credit will cost $1,400.

No previous experience is necessary. Participants will work in an international atmosphere with students and volunteers from other cultures.

Optional European stop-over and extension of stay in Israel plans are available.

Second year in a row

Rocks again reign as Spring Jamboree county champs

By RICH ADAMS
Sports Editor

The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws captured their second county championship in as many years Wednesday night as they defeated the Bay High Tigers and Hancock North Central Hawks during the Second Annual Spring Football Jamboree.

The three teams played against each other in three 'mini-games' consisting of two eight-minute halves at Hawk Stadium Wednesday.

In the first game HNC defeated the Tigers 14-7, all points being scored in the second half.

The second game featuring SSC and Bay High went into double-overtime as regulation play ended in a scoreless game.

Each team was given the ball on their opponent's 10 yard line and given four plays in which to score.

In the second set of overtime SSC's Quarterback Joe Gex dove over the line from one yard out to score the winning six points.

In the third game between the Hawks and Rock-A-Chaws, Juan Betanzos booted a 30 yard field goal between the uprights with 21 seconds remaining in the game to win for SSC.

HNC VERSUS BAY HIGH

Hancock won the toss and elected to receive in the first game of the Spring Jamboree, and began with the ball on their own 15 yard line.

Charles Davis took the first play from scrimmage and ran for a 15 yard gain and a first down, followed by a five yard ramp by returning runningback Lloyd Henry.

Quarterback Bobby Devaughn then handed the ball to Faron Hoda, who gained three yards for a third-and-two situation.

Bay High's Jimmy Sones broke through blockers on the next play and sacked Hoda for a two yard loss, forcing Hancock into a punting situation.

Hoda's punt rolled to the Bay High three yard line, where Tiger Quarterback Curtis Thomas gave the ball to Van Fayard, who picked up three yards.

On the following play Thomas bobbled the ball and recovered his own fumble for no gain.

Thyrone Lewis took the ball for a two yard gain, but on a fourth-and-five situation on their own eight yard line, Fayard was forced to punt.

Hancock took possession on the Bay High 40 yard line, and following an 11 yard run by Henry, Davis fumbled the ball which was recovered by Bay High's Gary Karl.

The Tigers were unable to move the ball from their own 34 yard line, and again Fayard was called upon to punt.

Hancock's Davis ran for a four yard gain as the halftime buzzer sounded with the game scoreless.

Bay High received the kick on their own 36 yard line after the half break.

Thomas attempted a pass to Fayard, which was incomplete, and attempted another to Dennis Rhodes, which was deflected by HNC's Davis.

Fayard, on a fourth-and-nine situation, attempted a fake punt but was brought down by Mike Freeman short of the first down.

On the first play of the series, Henry took a handoff from Devaughn on the Tiger 32 and weaved his way to the end zone for a touchdown with 4:29 remaining in the second half.

Keith Glass' conversion was successful, giving the Hawks a 7-0 lead early in the second stanza.

Bay High took the ball for four downs, but, again unable to move against the Hawk defense, was forced to punt.

HNC took the ball from the Bay High 38, and on the opening series Devaughn hit Rodney Necaise for a 16 yard gain and first down.

With the ball on the 17, Devaughn attempted a throw to Harry Henry, which went through Henry's arms and was incomplete.

Lloyd Henry then took a handoff for a 10 yard gain to put the Hawks on the seven yard line.

Devaughn handed the ball to Davis on the next play, who went the final seven yards to score with 4:03 remaining on the clock.

Glass kicked a conversion to increase the Hawk lead to 14-0.

Bay High took the ensuing kickoff on their own 19 as Steve Seymour replaced Thomas as signal caller for the Tigers.

Seymour hit Stephen Hargett for a 30 yard gain to near midfield, but the momentum failed to continue and the Tigers punted again.

Hancock took the ball on the 36, but a fumble was recovered by Doug Dickerson.

of the Tigers and Bay High was within scoring range on the HNC 26.

Fayard was given the ball two times as he ran up the middle for a 15 yard gain and a five yard romp.

Following a misguided Seymour pass to Hargett Seymour kept the ball and scored from four yards out with just 25 seconds remaining in the game.

Fayard's conversion, set back five yards due to a delay of game infraction, was good making the score 14-7 in favor of Hancock.

Bay High attempted an on-side kick which failed to travel 10 yards, and Hancock took possession on the Bay High 45 yard line.

Devaughn sidestepped tacklers on a 16 yard gain, but time ran out and the game ended with HNC on top, 14-7.

BAY HIGH VERSUS ST. STANISLAUS

SSC won the toss and elected to receive, taking the ball from their own 35 yard line.

Sean Logan ran for a one-yard gain, followed by a Mike Hourin gainer of eight for a third-and-eight situation.

Logan got the assignment on the next play and broke loose for an eight yard gain and first down.

Hourin then took the ball for another first down after a 13-yard gain.

Quarterback Brian Logan pitched out to Sean Logan for a five yard gainer, and then Sean Logan ran for another four yards to put the Rocks in a third-and-one situation on the 23 yard line.

Tiger Mark Davis broke through the line to sack the signal caller, putting SSC in a fourth-and-one situation.

Sean Logan then ran off right tackle for a one yard gain and a first down.

The Bay High defense tightened up, and a 28 yard field goal attempt by SSC was no good.

Bay High took over on their 20 as Walter Ross and Fayard alternated runs, but the Tigers were faced with a fourth-and-two situation and Fayard was called on to punt.

SSC took possession on their 42, and Sean Logan took the ball 10 yards for a first down in Tiger territory as the clock wound down. The first half ended scoreless.

The Tigers took the kickoff on their own 20, and after a short gain by Ross, Seymour hit Dennis Rhodes for a 17 yard pass play and a first down.

Seymour hit Hargett for a 10 yard gain for a first down, and the Bay High eleven picked up another five yards on an off-side infraction by the Rocks.

Seymour again passed on a third-and-eight situation, hitting Hargett on the 10 with a bullet pass for a first-and-ten situation.

Lewis was given the ball on a play from the nine, but an SSC tackler fired into the backfield and stopped him for an eight yard loss.

Fayard attempted a 25 yard field goal, but the kick was wide and no good.

Stanislaus took the ball on their own 20, and Hourin ran for a 19 yard gain to the 39 followed by Hoe Gex's 22 yard run to the Tiger 36.

Brian Logan hit Marc Meyer for a 25 yard gain, but an illegal procedure infraction against the Rocks brought the ball back to the 47.

With no time remaining on the clock following an SSC time out, Betanzos attempted a 40 yard field goal, but the kick was blocked by Bay High's Fayard, thus ending regulation play at 0-0.

In the first series of overtime, Bay High took the ball on the SSC 10 yard line and Seymour was tossed for a loss of two yards; then sacked for a three yard loss.

Seymour attempted a pass to Hargett and failed, followed by a 24 yard field goal attempt by Fayard.

Dickerson, the ball holder, bobbled the ball and was downed to give the Rocks the ball on the Bay High 10 yard line.

SSC runningback Sean Logan was thrown for a 10 yard loss as Hargett pulled him down in the backfield.

Gex hit Meyer for an 11 yard gain which placed the ball on the nine yard line, and then Betanzos attempted a 20 yard field goal, which was wide and no good.

In the second series of overtime, Bay High fumbled and Joe Church picked up the loose ball for the Rocks.

From the Tiger 10 yard line, Gex kept the ball for a nine yard gain. He then ran the quarterback sneak up the middle to score, winning the game 6-0.

HNC VERSUS SSC

Stanislaus won the toss and elected to receive, taking the ball on their own 27 yard line.

On a third-and-four situation, Brian Logan fumbled the ball which was recovered by Faron Hoda of Hancock.

From the 30 yard line, Charles Davis gained 15 yards, but the play was nullified by a holding penalty against the Hawks.

Lloyd Henry ran up the middle for a fine yard gain, and after an incomplete pass and broken play, Hoda punted a high, lofting ball which went near the HNC end zone.

Keith Glass made a last minute tackle to stop what may have been a Rock-A-Chaw punt return runback.

SSC was unable to move the ball and, Chris Whitfield was forced to punt from the 42 yard line.

Lloyd Henry took the high punt and was immediately hit by a SSC defensive player, giving Hancock the ball on their own 45.

Devaughn hit Rodney Necaise for a 15 yard gain and a first down, placing the ball on the SSC 40.

Hancock was hit with a clipping penalty on the next play, and hit with an illegal procedure infraction after Lloyd Henry ran 15 yards with the ball.

Hancock was running toward the end zone from the 45 when the buzzer sounded, ending the half.

SSC got a break in the second period when Devaughn fumbled the ball and the Rocks recovered.

From the 33 yard line of Hancock the Rocks began a ground attack moving to the 18.

A Gex pass bounced from the fingers of a Rock receiver and landed in Faron Hoda's arms as Hancock intercepted to take possession.

Lloyd Henry took three attempts on the ground from the Hancock 10 yard line, but was unable to gain ground and the Hawks were forced to punt.

Stanislaus took the ball at midfield, and Kent Deschamp gained 11 yards for a first down.

Gex, replacing Logan as signal caller, hit Hourin for a 26 yard gain on the Hawk 15 yard line.

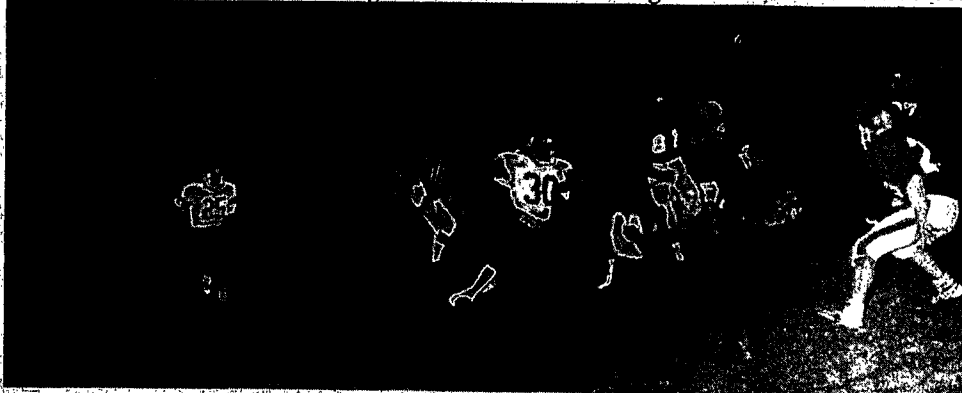

A five yard infraction against Hancock for offside placed the ball on the 10. Stanislaus was then penalized five yards for offside, and a third-and-seven situation prevailed.

Betanzos was called in to attempt a 30 yard field goal with 21 seconds remaining, which went through the uprights making the score 3-0 in favor of SSC.

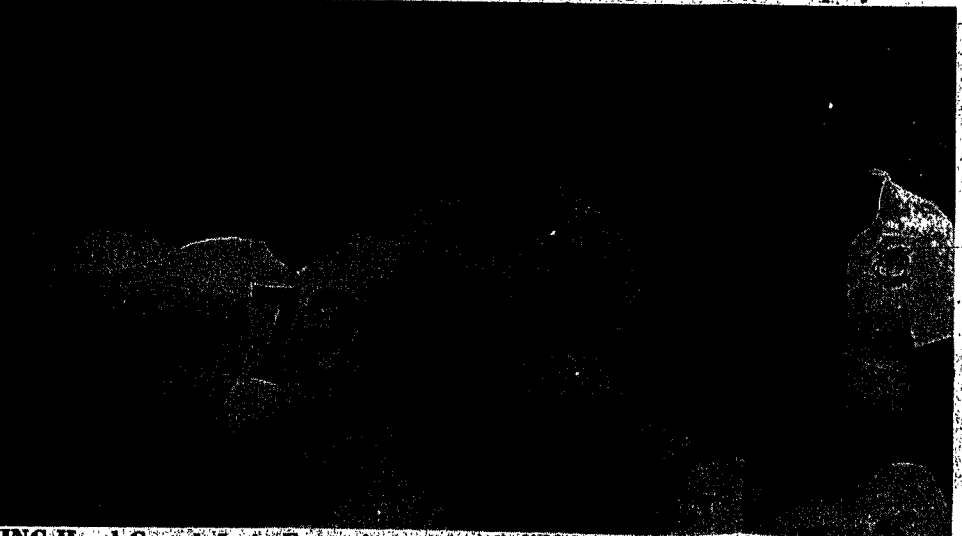

Hancock took the ball from their 20 after Lloyd Henry received the kickoff in his end zone, but the clock ran out and the Rocks won 3-0.

Bay High's Steve Seymour (12) grabs Joe Gex's head in an unsuccessful attempt to stop the SSC quarterback from scoring and ending the double-overtime game between the two teams. The Rocks won 6-0.

The Sixth grade French class of Christ Episcopal Day School recently spent a weekend in Southwest Louisiana.

The students visited the Acadian Village in Lafayette, where original Acadian dwellings have been brought together to represent an early "Cajun" bayou village.

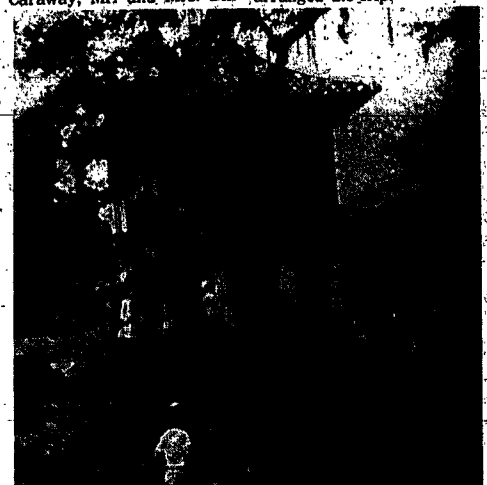

The students spent the day in Breaux Bridge for the Crawfish Festival, viewing the Crawfish Peeling Contest, a street parade, a boat parade, and crawfish races; sampling Cajun cooking amidst a fairground - of continuous Cajun music and amusement rides.

Next on the tour was Evangeline Oak in St. Martinville, and Avery Island - home of Tabasco Sauce.

The tour enabled the students to experience the abundant French culture which thrives in our neighboring state.

Students participating in the trip include: Ned Benvenutti, Burt Gilbert, Connie Lambert, Jennifer Lamb, Rusty Ladner, Ashley Houston, Mark Puckett, Andy Mecum and Kris Swartzendruber. Hunt

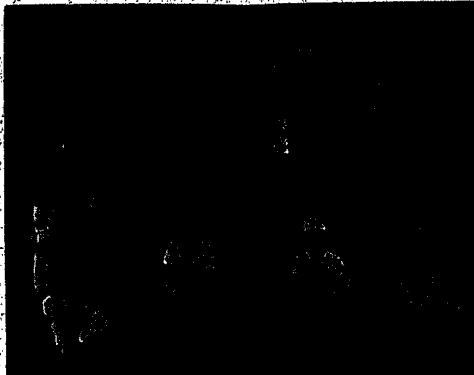

Ladner, Theresa Kerr, Frank Jackson, Mrs. Marty Houston, Barker and Mark Truett. Mrs. Carol Kerr, Mrs. Suzanne Truett and Madamie Lambert. Mrs. Betty Kathryn Edwards, the Benvenutti, Mr. and Mrs. Bill students' French teacher who Caraway, Mr. and Mrs. Bill arranged the trip.

Spanish Acres neighborhood group elects

The Spanish Acres Civic and Social Association, Inc. recently elected its board of directors and officers of the corporation.

Elected to the board are Joe Bermond, Judi Brooks, Robert Cagle, Robert Gavagne and Charles Hirsutius.

Incoming officers are Charles Hirsutius, president; Robert Marks, vice president; Mrs. Dana Fayard, secretary; and Mrs. Amanda Carter, treasurer.

The Association is a non-profit corporation representing property owners and residents of The Spanish Acres Subdivision in Bay St. Louis.

Nurses group elects officers

New officers for the District Five Nurses' Association elected at a May meeting are Ronnie Wescovich, president; Cynthia Chatham, second vice president; and Betty Stafford, treasurer.

Board members elected are Marsha Doherty and Wilene MacDonald.

Phillips Business College auditorium provided the setting for a reception sponsored by District No. 5 nurses in honor of Jeff Davis Associate Degree graduate nurses on May 1.

Refreshments for the graduates and their families followed the ceremony.

Legal Secretaries install new officers

Ilyne Stewart of Gulfport was installed in her second term as president of the Harrison-Hancock Counties Legal Secretaries Association Thursday, May 8 at the Best Western in Gulfport.

Ms. Stewart's employer, Edward O. Miller, Gulfport attorney, served as installing officer assisted by Bonnie Davis as installing marshal in candlelight ceremony.

Other officers installed are Shug Mallini, vice president; Maxine LeBoeuf, secretary; Sandy Wedworth, treasurer; Rita Smith, governor, and Patsy Bishop, national representative. Preceding the installation ceremony, members and their guests were treated to a wine and cheese social chaired by M.L. Tootle.

Following the installation and business meeting, members and guests were entertained by Molly McGuff and Her Mime Machine comprised of students from Long Beach High School.

All members were encouraged to attend the Legal Secretaries State Convention hosted by Hancock-Harrison Chapter at the Best Western in Gulfport May 16-18.

Coast Symphony Guild plans May 21 luncheon

The Gulf Coast Symphony Guild held its May 7th meeting at the home of Mrs. William Broom with Mrs. William Broom and Mrs. Rodney Thompson as co-hostesses.

Officers elected for the coming year are Mrs. Donald Burns, president; Mrs. John Wolf, first vice president; Mrs. W.N. Permenter, second chairman, reported on a salad luncheon to be held at the Broadwater County Club Wednesday, May 21st at noon.

The proceeds from this luncheon will benefit the Gulf Coast Symphony Orchestra and tickets may be purchased from Guild members, at the Arts Council Office or at the door.

The next meeting will be June 4 at the home of Mrs. Bertis Mason, 4803 Kendall, Gulfport.
